

A person is sitting on a bed in a room. The room has a window with a string of colorful flags hanging from it. The person is looking out the window. The text is overlaid on the image.

Today I Lay...

Today I lay on my bed,

Because of the words that I said.

I'm in my room for two days; I'm of no use everybody says.

Two days ago I went to my school,

I didn't understand anything I felt like a fool. Suddenly the teacher asked me the definition of light, Oh Lord! I knew I was not that bright.

Some of the students raised hands in the air, while others sat still on their chair.

A smile came on my face I don't know why,

I looked towards the teacher, her eyes didn't lie. I should have controlled myself a bit,

Cause now I was in a real fit.

She took me to the so called 'princi', while the entire class was in frenzy.

The principal was an angry old man,
His temper was not cooled down by the fan, to explain I didn't get a chance,
Cause the princi suspended me at a glance.

Now I have to wait for another week,
Feeling like I'm stuck on a peak.
Now this is the reason as I said,
The reason why today I la y on my bed
